

Youth Development Resource Directory

Spring 2008

This directory was compiled in winter of 2008 to support the John W. Gardner Center for Youth and Their Communities' (JGC) Youth in the Middle Initiative. The organizations in the directory provide resources and services related to the implementation of youth development principles, such as assessment tools, trainings, and practice materials. Although we created this as a resource for local youth development practitioners in San Mateo County, with a focus on Redwood City, we hope that it will prove valuable outside this localized scope as well.

For more information on this work please contact Katrina Brink, kbrink@stanford.edu.

Resource Directory Table of Contents:

The directory lists organizations based on the type of resources and services they offer. Click on the page number to jump to that section.
